

Employment Litigation

Kegler Brown has an excellent track record of representing clients before state and federal equal employment agencies and court litigation, as well as in arbitration, in both individual and class action disputes. Our broad experience includes successful defense of claims of wrongful termination, sexual harassment, all forms of discrimination and retaliation, and claims under the Fair Labor Standards Act. Our employment litigators have a record of winning summary judgment in wrongful termination, discrimination and retaliation cases, and we regularly represent clients in the enforcement of non-competition agreements, engaging in a high volume of non-compete litigation in Ohio courts.

Members of our employment litigation team have been recognized by their peers for trial acumen. Lori Fuhrer was recently ranked as one of the Top 25 woman attorneys in Columbus and was named by Chambers USA "Women in Law" as one of only four litigators nationally to be selected as a finalist for its prestigious "Up and Coming Litigation Lawyer of the Year" honor. Rob Cohen has been consistently honored by the most prominent attorney rating services in the country and was selected for a 2012 "Lawyer of the Year" honor by The Best Lawyers in America; he also holds an AV rating from Martindale-Hubbell, the highest honor given by the publication. Larry Feheley, recently ranked by Super Lawyers as one of the top 100 attorneys in Ohio, was also honored as the 2013 "Lawyer of the Year" in Columbus in the area of employment law.
