10:45 — From the Horse's Mouth: What Attorneys Want From Litigation Support

We've all attended conference sessions where we as litigation technology professionals try to identify what attorneys want regarding technology, training and processes. Why don't we get it straight from the horse's mouth? A panel of attorneys and a paralegal will tell us what they want and what strategies might be effective for their peers.

1:15 — Become the Envy of Your Department (or Firm) with Systemized E-Discovery Project Management

E-Discovery is often treated as a reactive activity without defined, repeatable processes, resulting in missed deadlines, lost evidence and miscommunications that can lead to wasted time, increased internal costs and potential legal sanctions. With the rising costs of litigation, legal teams must start treating e-discovery as a business process. Business process management, a discipline traditionally applied to non-legal functions, offers legal professionals a remarkable opportunity to improve project outcomes and become the envy of your department. Want to learn more? E-Discovery experts will provide their perspectives on how to effectively transform e-discovery into a business process, tackling topics such as the largest drivers for e-discovery mistakes and overruns, project management principles that can be used by all legal members, and technology advancements for systemizing e-discovery as a repeatable process.

Moderator: Jay Spencer

Speakers: Carla Bauer, David Hasman, Chris Yoshida

2:45 — Refreshment Break and Door Prizes (15 mins.)

We've all been there: Things don't go as expected, and you end up getting burned. Join your peers in this interactive session where audience members will provide examples of things that went awry and, more important, how the issue was resolved. Attendees will walk away with some great tips to avoid future fire drills!
